

Mission Statement

h.g.brunner's mission is to be a specialist distributor of high quality precision components and mechatronic assemblies, as well as to provide a professional engineering, sales and marketing interface between selected suppliers (our principals) and their customers.

Vision Statement

h.g.brunner will provide its customers with the highest level of service and support, supplying quality precision components on time and at competitive prices.